

MAX Health and the NZHPA are pleased to announce the Max Health Pharmacy Innovation Showcase Award

Essential Products, Smart Solutions

Do you have a great idea for improving patient care? Are you struggling to implement a new model of service due to lack of resources? Are you currently running something that needs a boost? Got the initiative, but need the support?

If the answer is yes, this $3000 award could be for you!

You just need to complete the application form to submit your proposal by 5pm Friday 30 July 2021. Three finalists will be invited to pitch their idea to a panel of judges in front of conference delegates at the NZHPA Conference in Christchurch in December. All three finalists will receive complimentary registration to the whole Conference!

Max Health is a small but innovative company, which has grown steadily since its establishment in 2008. They distribute a variety of pharmaceutical products, including medicines often difficult to access within New Zealand. Each of their products meets a recognised need, and the company pride themselves in providing the type of service that keeps their customers coming back.

They are proud to offer this $3000 prospective award to support a wide range of research and professional development activities that demonstrate values that are consistent with those that Max Health espouses:

- Innovation in Pharmacy practice
- Problem solving
- Focussing on patient-centred care

Recipients of the award could use the funding for professional development activities to support development of the project such as service improvement initiatives, research projects, national or international study tours, preceptorships, international and local travel to relevant conferences.
